

Chef Paul Nuno

SP2 Communal Bar + Restaurant

Chef Paul Nuno was born and raised in Silicon Valley and has a long career in culinary arts and has earned multiple accolades. His most recent experience includes working at Michelin Star restaurant in the Peninsula, but his background is extremely diverse and unique.

At a very young age, he worked at a local restaurant business serving students at San Jose State University. This inspired him to attend culinary school at the International Culinary Center (ICC) and to work under some of the most prestigious chefs in the Bay Area, expanding and fine-tuning his craft.

As one of Silicon Valley's fastest upcoming chefs, he is excited to take the reins of one of the top restaurants in San Jose.